

Chimp Blazes Trail For US Astronauts

Rocket Takes Space Ape 115 Miles Up

Six Astronauts Are On Hand To View Test Shot

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) — The United States successfully rocketed a chimpanzee-manned space capsule more than 100 miles into space today and dropped it in the Atlantic Ocean 420 miles down range. There was no immediate report on whether the chimp survived.

The capsule overshot its intended target by 130 miles, indicating that the Redstone booster rocket had not performed as planned.

Ships, planes and helicopters raced to attempt recovery of the one-ton space chamber and its passenger, a 37 1/4-pound male primate designated simply No. 65.

The majority of the recovery forces were stationed in the intended impact area 290 miles down range. But other craft were placed on both near and far sides of the mark in case the capsule missed it.

There was no immediate word on how near the bell-shaped capsule fell to any of the recovery ships.

The launching was a crucial forerunner of a plan to send an American astronaut on a similar ride into space, hopefully within two months.

The 60-foot rocket blasted off at 11:55 a.m. and roared away at a speed of 4,200 miles an hour.

Six of the seven astronauts were spectators at the launching. If the chimp comes through the flight harmed, one of the human space men may travel the same route within two months.

Ships, planes and helicopters waited in the planned impact zone in the Atlantic Ocean northeast of Grand Bahama Island, ready to recover the capsule in which the chimp rode.

The 37 1/4-pound male ape grinned and waved his arms when he was placed in the capsule at 6 a.m. Observers said "he seemed at ease about the whole thing."

Medical men picked him Monday from a group of four males and two females who had been trained for the job. The choice was based on his physical condition and mental attitude.

The slender, 83-foot Redstone soared smoothly from its pad, a bright trail of flame tracing its course as it raced across a clear blue sky. As the hot rocket penetrated the cold layer of air in the upper atmosphere, a puffy white contrail appeared in its wake.

Subpoena 2 Convicts In Bullock Case

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Two convicts who have given police conflicting and confusing stories about the unsolved slaying of James S. Bullock have been subpoenaed as witnesses in the federal court trial over disposition of Bullock's $65,000 life insurance.

They are Thomas Patrick Murphy, now in the Illinois Penitentiary at Joliet, and Ivan L. Deckard, now in the Missouri Penitentiary at Jefferson City. The trial opened Monday.

Both men have claimed knowledge of a plot by two persons to have Bullock killed by hired gunmen, one of whom is now dead. They have changed their stories at various times. Extensive investigation by police have produced no decisive results.

Bullock's aunt, Mrs. Gertrude Duerbeck of St. Louis, is claiming $19,736 of the insurance.

All of the insurance is claimed by the victim's widow, now Mrs. Dean Cole of Overland Park, Kan. She was Mrs. Edna Ruth Bullock at the time of the slaying. She was questioned at length after the slaying, then went to her mother's home in Kansas and refused to return to Missouri.

Mrs. Duerbeck claimed in her suit that her nephew's wife had entered into a scheme to marry him and replace her as beneficiary of two insurance policies. Bullock came to live with his aunt in 1946 after the death of his parents.

Sets Aside Farm Week

FARM BUREAU WEEK—Governor John M. Dalton signs a proclamation as one of the early acts of his administration, naming the week of Feb. 12-18 as "Missouri Farm Bureau Week." Many county Farm Bureaus are conducting intensive membership drives during the week. The Pettis County Farm Bureau will hold its annual livestock banquet at Flat Creek Inn Feb. 9, at 7 p.m., as an early start observing the special week. Watching as the Governor signs the document is Olen Monsees, a Smithton dairy farmer, president of the Missouri Farm Bureau Federation.

Meets Portuguese Rebels

Admiral Boards Liner Santa Maria

RECIFE, Brazil (AP)—A U. S. admiral met Portuguese rebel Capt. Henrique Galvao at sea today in a conference that could mean swift freedom for the nearly 600 passengers aboard the captive liner Santa Maria.

Atlantic Fleet headquarters in Norfolk, Va., announced the rendezvous of Rear Adm. Allen E. Smith Jr., and Galvao who seized the $16.6 million ship Jan. 22.

Smith, the Navy's Caribbean commander, sped out from Recife at daybreak aboard the U. S. destroyer Gearing to a point about 35 miles offshore where Galvao waited for the inauguration today of a new Brazilian president who has informally offered him and the ship safe haven.

The Navy announced the admiral went aboard the Santa Maria at 6:50 a. m. This conformed to original plans. It was reported here Monday night that Galvao had asked that the meeting be held on the destroyer.

The Gearing halted about 500 yards from the Santa Maria and Smith and his party, including two American diplomats posted in Brazil, made the crossing in a motor whaleboat.

A Recife tug carried 61 newsmen to the area, but was requested by the Navy to keep some distance away so as not to impede the Navy's operations.

The U. S. destroyer Damato was also on hand and two others, the destroyers Wilson and Vogelsgang, were expected to join forces with her and the Gearing.

Salveter Listed As Nominee On A Commission

JEFFERSON CITY (AP)—Democrats submitted the names of 10 nominees to Gov. John M. Dalton today for the party's five places on the state Senatorial Redistricting Commission.

Republicans submitted their 10 nominees earlier. From the two lists the governor must pick five from each party to re-align the 34 senatorial districts in conformity with the 1960 census.

If the commission fails to redistrict, the senators to be elected in 1962 would have to run at large.

Here are the nominees submitted by John W. English, Democratic state chairman:

Max Oliver, Montgomery City; Jack Fleischaker, Joplin; Henry Salveter, Sedalia; James W. Farley, Farley; Charles L. Bianton, Sikeston; James E. Crowe, St. Louis; Mark Hennelly, St. Louis; Edward D. Weakley, St. Louis; William Leedy, Kansas City, and W. H. Bates, Kansas City.

Mothers March On Polio Tonight

This is the night for porch lights to be turned on.

The annual Mothers March on Polio will be held from 6:30 to 7:30 and citizens of the town are asked to have their porch lights turned on and their contributions ready.

The mothers' March has done much to further education and research that has brought polio under control through vaccination, is now being extended to include further research and information about birth defects and arthritis.

Operating Employees On Strike

Governor Instructs Boston Officials To Make Settlement

BOSTON (AP)—An unauthorized strike of operating employees shut down rapid transit and bus service throughout this sixth-ranking metropolitan area today—the second such stoppage in five months.

Gov. John A. Volpe summoned Metropolitan Transit Authority General Manager Thomas J. McLernon and two officials of the strikers' union to a mid-morning conference at his office. Identical telegrams instructed them to come "prepared to effect a settlement and restore service forthwith."

As thousands of automobiles poured into the city, Boston Traffic Commissioner Thomas J. Griffin banned all downtown parking of pleasure cars. His office explained the action was taken in anticipation of an increase in the normal daily traffic from 100,000 cars to about 250,000.

The strikers stayed away from their jobs with the excuse they were sick—an explanation repeated over and over in early morning telephone calls. But William V. Ward, one of the MTA board of trustees, asserted this was patently untrue.

The publicly owned Transit Authority serves 690,000 daily riders in 14 cities and towns.

Water Rate Hike Unsettled; No Terms Reached At Meet

Slowdown Urged By Dirksen

Kennedy Programs Draw Sharp Words From GOP Leader

WASHINGTON (AP)—Any chance President Kennedy may have had for a congressional honeymoon vanished today as Republicans maneuvered to slow down a program he said was needed to reverse an economic downturn.

With some conservative exceptions, Democrats called Kennedy's State of the Union message a realistic challenge to the American people to face up to their problems at home and abroad.

Influential Republicans took sharp issue with the President's contention that the U. S. economy was in serious trouble and needed immediate corrective measures.

Other GOP members objected strenuously to what they called Kennedy's "down-grading" of America's position in the world. Others accused the President of injecting partisanship into the blueprint he drew for the critical days he saw ahead.

Sen. Everett M. Dirksen of Illinois, Senate GOP leader, signalled a slowdown by calling for extensive committee hearings on most of the proposals Kennedy said he would submit to Congress in the next two weeks. Dirksen said that if they could Republicans would see that there would be "no ill-digested stuff rushed through Congress."

The Illinois senator said that if Kennedy's recommendations for a food for peace program, establishment of a peace corps and a conservation corps and aid for distressed areas all were accepted by Congress, budget balancing would go down the drain.

Sen. Thurston B. Morton, R-Ky., Republican notional chairman, said Kennedy's address, delivered to a joint session of Congress Monday, "echoes the cynical brashness" of his presidential campaign.

Even In Moscow

Kennedy Message Widely Acclaimed

LONDON (AP)—President Kennedy's State of the Union message won wide acclaim in newspapers of Western Europe today.

It even received a kind of pat on the back in Moscow, where newspapers published up to a half page of excerpts, including Kennedy's outline of areas where U. S. and Soviet interests conflict.

No Moscow paper gave any reaction or comment to the speech, but the range of excerpts they published were remarkable. As expected, they included in detail the President's views on the internal U. S. situation, the dollar problem, the recession and school shortages, as well as his appeal to the Soviet Union for scientific cooperation in outer space.

But they also included such items not normally found in Soviet papers as Kennedy's declaration that "we must never forget our hopes for the ultimate freedom and welfare of the eastern European peoples" and his declaration that neither the Soviet Union nor Communist China has yielded their ambitions for world domination.

AP Chief of Bureau Preston Grover cabled from Moscow that such statements were likely to provoke strong reaction in Soviet circles.

In general, the Western press expressed the view that the speech had cleared the international air and might serve to rouse the United States from a long sleep.

The London Daily Express headline—"Wake up, Americans!"—was typical.

The independent Die Welt of Hamburg, West Germany commented: "The things Americans were told yesterday about their economy, the dollar, unemployment, and lack of scientific education will produce some grave head-shaking."

"But they will also be able to breathe with relief. Finally they were told how things stand. And since they are realists, they will shift into faster gear."

Nikita Visit To US Set, Reds Report

WASHINGTON (AP)—Communist sources say Soviet Premier Khrushchev plans to be in the United States for the United Nations session in March and it is up to President Kennedy whether the two will meet.

Khrushchev himself is represented as agreeable to a meeting.

Word of Khrushchev's intentions and attitude was brought to Washington Monday by Communist diplomats attached to the United Nations. They said they got it from Moscow.

The General Assembly reconvenes March 7. The sources said Khrushchev intends to be there for one week.

Council Indicates It May Okay 20% Increase

The Monday night meeting between the City Council and the Board of Public Works began with what seemed to be a sparring session, but after a short recess during which some tempers flared, the meeting proceeded and the two factions came up with what may be an increase in water rates of approximately 20 per cent.

The session opened with a short resume of the meeting Jan. 9. Councilman E. B. Smith indicated he had received part of the information requested then, and Carlton Kelley, member of the Public Works board, indicated the information not furnished was unavailable at this time.

Kelley stated he believed the engineering report covering the last three years of operation of the water department was accurate, and that he believed the recommended 35 per cent increase was justified.

Smith indicated he had made a careful study of the operation of the department, and was not satisfied with some of the items he found.

William Patterson of the engineering firm of Black & Veatch stated the report was made on a basis of fact, and that the firm had not been informed of the financial condition of the water department before making the report.

Councilman Jack Cunningham stated he believed there is a major difference in an engineer's viewpoint, and the viewpoint from the management side.

"It seems to me that we are two poles apart in our thinking," Councilman Jack Cunningham stated, "the Board has outlined its needs, and from where I sit, the expense of operation of the Water Department is not an inflationary expense. Inflationary operations have not hit us. I would like to see a reverse in thinking and see the Water Department operate on the money we have available and get along as we best can. We should use what we have and live within our income. We all have good business heads and I believe it can be done."

Cunningham then asked Patterson to go along with his line of thinking and the engineer answered, "It cannot be done. The hard facts in the tri-annual report will not support anything less than the 35 per cent increase we recommended. When we made the report the board did not mention the financial condition of the water department. We based the report on facts, from an engineering standpoint, and on past experience in working with water systems of this type. The facts must stand."

Management Vs. Engineering
Cunningham replied that it is not up to an engineering group to manage a water plant. "There is a difference in management and engineering. It is impossible for us to climb up the ladder of success and not saddle the community with a tax load it cannot carry." He pointed out that in 1957 the department operated at a profit.

Patterson answered that he had worked with the manager of the old Sedalia Water Co., and felt that the company under private ownership had deferred certain capital improvements and maintenance. This deferred expense must be borne by the City under municipal ownership, he added.

Kelley pointed out that under private ownership the water firm expenses had increased about seven per cent per year from 1951 through 1955, and that on (Please turn to Page 2, Col. 5)

Rayburn has been in the House 47 years, Smith 30. Even yielding 17 years, Smith ranks among the dozen seniors of the House.

Rayburn has the enormous prestige of the speakership. Before his present term is over he will have served as speaker twice as long as any other man. His nearest rival was Henry Clay.

Smith is the acknowledged leader of the Southern conservative Democrats in the House and has done as much as any man to give that outnumbered group an influence in national affairs.

Smith is a banker-lawyer, former judge. He lives in a 160-year-old house and represents a slice of Virginia's aristocratic hunt country. President Kennedy has leased an estate in Smith's congressional district, near Middleburg.

AF Creating New Command For Services

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—The Air Force is creating a new command to be responsible for its global communications.

Gen. Thomas D. White, Air Force chief of staff, announced formation of the Air Force Communications Service Monday night and said it will go into operation July 1 with responsibilities formerly "divided among many Air Force commands and agencies."

At Washington, the Air Force said the new command will have headquarters at Scott Air Force Base, Ill.

White termed the current warning system against attack by jet planes "highly effective" and noted that "we also have the initial segment of a ballistic missile warning system in operation." However he warned, "we have a long way to go in completing a total system which will be both effective and reliable."

Two Weeks Mission Is Set At Sacred Heart Church

Father Hugh Uhrich

Father Donald Green

Two Precious Blood Fathers, Revs. Hugh Uhrich and Donald Green will conduct a two weeks Mission at Sacred Heart Church, Feb. 5 through 18.

The mission services for adults will consist of Mass, together with a special mission sermon, at 8 o'clock in the evenings. The school children will have special mission services during the day.

In order to accommodate the people a suggested division was made so that those whose family names begin with the letters A to M come the first week and those with the letters N to Z the second week. This is not an absolute division. Those people who cannot come in their particular week are asked to come the other week.

In order that parents with small children do not have to get baby sitters it is suggested that one parent attend mission the first week and the other parent the second week.

This mission is open to anyone who would like to attend.

Fires In City

Sedalia firemen were kept busy at noon Monday with two grass fires.

The first alarm came at 12:07 p.m. It was at the "Katy" shops on West 20th where no loss was reported.

At 12:20 p.m. came the second alarm, at 1817 Liberty Park Blvd., where burning trash had caught grass on fire at the home of James Reynolds. No loss was reported.

City firemen were called at 10:07 p.m. Monday to the building under construction on Sixth street next to the First Baptist Church. A passer-by noticed the reflection of "smudge pot" flames flickering on beams in the new building and turned in the fire alarm. Firemen investigated and found no fire except that inside the "smudge pots" which are used to heat the construction area.

Police Reports

Harry Fowler, Route 3, reported to police Monday that four "flipper" type hubcaps had been stolen from his automobile while it was parked in the Prudential Life Insurance parking lot at 200 East Fifth between 7 and 9 p.m. Sunday.

Other Fires

The Pettis County Fire Department had two runs, one right after the other, Monday afternoon. The first came at 12:10 p.m. from about a mile east of Bryson, Mo., where a grass fire along the MKT railroad tracks was threatening the George Chaney farm. Damage was reported done to fence post. Farmers at the scene told firemen a passing train may have been the cause.

A burning brush fire which got out of control about 12:55 p.m. caused the second run, just as the fire department got to Third and Limit in Sedalia. The call was taken by the Pettis County Sheriff's office and relayed to the truck by radio.

The call came from the Walter Howery farm, Route 1, Ionia on Highway 52, where about $150 damage was done as 15 acres of prairie hay were burned.

A strong wind blew the fire across Highway 52, but it was quickly extinguished. The fire department was told that a brush fire went out of control and caused the blaze.

Magistrate Court

Richard Lee Brown of Kansas City, charged with burglarizing the Gem Dandy Jewelry store on South Ohio Nov. 15, has been returned to Sedalia from Minneapolis, Minn., where he was apprehended, to face the burglary charge.

Sheriff Emmett Fairfax returned Brown to Sedalia Monday. He has been placed in the Pettis County jail. Magistrate Judge Frank Armstrong set the release bond at $3,000. At press time Brown had not met the bond.

Judge Armstrong said the date for the preliminary hearing has not been set.

Water

the same basis he expected the operating expenses to continue to increase on approximately the same basis.

"It appears to me that the operation of the Water Department under city management has been as careful as the management under private ownership," Kelley stated.

Mayor Silverman pointed out that since the Jan. 9 meeting he has contacted other nationally-known engineering firms, and there is a major difference in theory even from an engineering standpoint. "Some firms believe a bond issue for certain capital improvements is satisfactory, yet Black & Veatch recommend operation on a full cash basis," the mayor stated.

The mayor added as an afterthought that he believed it might be a good idea to leave the situation up to the public.

Patterson answered that he knew of no firm that would recommend capital improvements by bond issues. He pointed out that Sedalia is under heavy debt from the purchase of the department, and that additional bond issues would not be suitable.

Garrison Opposes Bickering
Councilman Woodrow Garrison stated that he had attended all the meetings on the rate increase matter, and that he believed the public meetings had accomplished nothing. He stated he believed capital improvements to the water department could be worked out somewhat like the plan for Bothwell Hospital.

"The problem of the rate increase will never be settled in a public meeting. Here we are acting like a bunch of children, fighting each other. I know there are many questions that we are not bringing out because it is a public meeting. It's time the board and council met alone to determine the outcome of the matter," Garrison stated.

Smith stated that as the information he had asked for was not complete, and that some of the information had been made available only Monday, he had asked for a delay in the meeting until he had a chance to study the matter more thoroughly.

Kelley answered that all the information would not be available until the December books were closed.

"This indicates to me," Smith stated, "that the Board would like to prolong and delay the issue."

No Immediate Decision
Mayor Silverman asked if there were any more questions. When there was no answer, he indicated the council could not make a decision at that time.

Garrison again suggested the meeting be recessed and resumed with only the council and board present. Kelley indicated his approval and asked for a closed session. The mayor granted the request.

During the recess the council and board gathered in separate groups to discuss the matter of the press. Members of the press objected to being excluded from the meeting, and demanded to know who made the decision to hold the closed session.

Salvater Opposes Closed Meetings
Henry Salvater, attorney for the Board, heatedly stated, "Let's stop all this nonsense of closed meetings. Let's stop stabbing each other in the back with an ice pick, and bring the matter out in the open."

As no one would take the responsibility of making a decision to exclude the press from the meeting, Mayor Silverman declared the meeting open to the public, and back in session.

After the recess Smith stated that as a result of the conflict between the Board and Council, he had heard many vicious rumors. He said he had heard that the City had purchased a broken-down water company. He added that since no one could prove the rumor, he would rather not even discuss it.

Actions In Good Faith

Smith said that he believed that all the people involved in the purchase of the department had acted in good faith, but that they should have realized that in the operation of a business as big as a public utility, especially in the past few years, an increase is necessary for the continued operation of the utility. He stated that from information available to him he believed the private company was preparing to ask for a 50 per cent increase at the time the company was sold to the city.

Smith pointed out that the engineering report was based on expected growth of the City. He pointed out that he is an accountant and his interest in finances led him to re-study the engineering report. He said that what he found in the report did not add up to what he thought was right, and that is why he met with Kelley after the last meeting to get more information.

Commenting on the bonding ordinance for the purchase of the water company, Smith stated that the ordinance does call for a tri-annual report, and the ordinance suggests inclusion of comments from the council on the operation of the department. All such comments in the tri-annual report, however, refer to the water department management, but none from the council.

Cunningham pointed out that the City had offered the Water Department quarters in City Hall, but had received no reply. He pointed out the Board could eliminate $20 per month in expenses by eliminating the attorney for the Board, and letting City Attorney John C. McCloskey handle the work. He pointed out people were wondering why meter readpartments management, but none from the council.

Requires Further Study

"That's why I object to the department audit being rammed down my throat," Smith stated. "I am aware of a shortage in operating expenses. I have obtained additional information today and have not had time to study it. It seems to me that the increased operational expenses are reflected in salaries and wages, and I want to find out why."

Smith questioned the salary and expense accounts of Major C. Hagar, water department manager. He stated that the expense of an air conditioner, several hundred dollars in repairs on a new car and gasoline bills were disturbing. He asked why these things were not shown on the Water Department books.

"Is this a cover-up by the board to protect Major Hagar's pension?" Smith asked. He said that it was his understanding that if a man on pension made over a certain amount, the pension would be discontinued. He asked if the salary of $9,223.93 plus an expense account of $463 would not cause the pension to be discontinued. He further asked why the City paid engineer's registration fees in other states for Major Hagar and asked if all the travel performed by the manager is justified.

Smith was not answered. He added that he was satisfied that the Board needed more money, but he got the impression that the Board resented interference by the Council.

Make Visit to Sioux Falls

"There is no room for a plush department in our City government," Smith said. He added that he and Mayor Silverman met Monday with the Mayor and Water Commission of Sioux Falls, South Dakota, that from information received by them they were of the opinion that Hagar had approached the problem in that City the same way as he is approaching the problem in Sedalia. He added that the Sioux Falls group said Hagar had proposed a big expansion program there, but after he left that City the water was done at less cost than originally proposed.

"I fail to see the point," Smith said, "Why does the Board try to cover up on a pension deal, then try to cram a 35 per cent water rate increase down the public's throat?"
Mayor Silverman stated, "We found out today that the mode of operation by Major Hagar in Sioux Falls is the same—here and there. He resigned after 18 months to accept the Sedalia job. In my opinion he is one of the best Water Department managers in the business, but there can be a big difference in management and engineering."

Salvater interrupted, "Mr. Mayor, do you have anything in writing, or is all you are saying just hearsay?"
Then Smith said to Salvater, "You're assuming something that is not true."

Salvater asked again, "Mr. Mayor, do you have anything in writing?"
Recommendation for Hagar
With the Mayor's permission Salvater then read a letter of recommendation the Sedalia Board received from the Water Commissioner of Sioux Falls, highly commending Hagar for his services. The board has on file several other letters of recommendation for Major Hagar.

Salvater then directed an answer to a previous question to Smith, concerning fishing and expenses incurred during the case of Stanton Hudson versus the City over trespassing at Spring Fork Lake.

Smith started to say something in reply, and Mayor Silverman pounded his gavel for order.
"If you want me to shut up, Mr. Mayor, just say so. Don't pound at me. I have the floor, and if you will permit me to, I have some points I want to put on the line," Salvater stated.

Asks Proof of Mismanagement
"Public welfare demands confidence in the Water Board. Previous comments from you, Mr. Smith, are small items. If you have any proof of mismanagement in the Water Department, bring it out," Salvater said.

Smith, in a reply to a previous statement by Salvater that he came to Sedalia to acquire a job with an accounting firm took the floor and stated, "That's a lie." Salvater asked Smith, "Are you a Certified Public Accountant?" Smith answered, "No. But I am an accountant, and I believe you should respect the accounting profession the same as I respect the profession of law."

Who Wants to Be Mayor?

Councilman Jack Cunningham, in reply to an inference that someone on the Council wanted to be Mayor of Sedalia, stated: "Who wants to be mayor of Sedalia anyway? Certainly not me. Let's get down to facts. All the Council wanted was to get together with the Board on a management problem."

Cunningham pointed out that the City had offered the Water Department quarters in City Hall, but had received no reply. He pointed out the Board could eliminate $20 per month in expenses by eliminating the attorney for the Board, and letting City Attorney John C. McCloskey handle the work. He pointed out people were wondering why meter read-

Bill to Give Tax Relief To Some Parents

WASHINGTON (AP) — Rep. Thomas B. Curtis, R-Mo., introduced Monday a bill which would afford tax relief for those supporting a student in college.

The taxpayer would receive a 30 per cent income tax credit for payment of college tuition and fees. The credit would be limited to $450.

Curtis introduced another bill which would set the same postage rate on the mailing of prescribed medicines regardless of whether the instructions on the label were printed or written by hand. He said the higher rate when instructions are hand written adds appreciably to medical costs, particularly for older persons.

ers worked in pairs, and used a truck when they could walk from house to house.

Salvater offered to step out of the position of attorney for the Board, stating he had more work to do than he could handle, and that the money he received was not important.

The Board explained the meter readers worked in pairs and used a truck only in fringe areas.

Cunningham pointed out he believed the small things are the things a good business man should eliminate in the first place.

Salvater asked what all the little things had to do with the big problem of water rate increases. He admitted the situation needed action, and the men on the Board have the unpleasant duty to ask for action, even if it costs the public money.

In Same Old Rut

Councilman Garrison took the floor and stated, "We seem to have gotten back in the same old rut we were in a little while ago. Will the Board itemize the capital improvements considered necessary by Black and Veatch, and present the matter to the public for a bond issue?"

Patterson answered, "The principal and interest added to your present obligations would be prohibitive. Paying cash avoids interest. It would be better, if you have to have a bond issue, to sell the bonds annually, thus avoid part of the interest."

Kelley took the floor for the board and pointed out the interest on bonds would be more than the 35 per cent increase. He explained that, in answer to a question on recurring expenses, that a non-recurring expense listed on the books for one year might not appear again, but another non-recurring expense would appear, making the non-recurring expense add up to about the same amount each year.

Water Availability Important

Kelley explained that in relation to the problem of attracting industry to the City, industry is not too concerned with the cost of water service, but is vitally concerned with its availability.

"In my opinion, for the continued operation of the Water Department during the next ten years we need not a 35 per cent increase, but a 40 or 45 per cent increase," Kelley stated. Even if the 35 per cent increase is granted, I would not guarantee that there will not be another increase recommended in the next tri-annual report, he added.

"We need $100,000 per year more money," Kelley said.
"I realize the need," Smith answered. "I realize a 35 per cent increase is a burden on the public. What does the Board think about a two year period of capital improvement? What would it cost? Surely there must be a medium we can agree on."

Patterson said in reply that the engineering proposals were at a minimum, guided by experience over a period of years, and that the water department must meet certain standards of service.

Recommends Another Meeting

Mayor Silverman stated that if there were no more questions, he would recommend another meeting on Feb. 6, during the regular Council meeting, to let the Board know what decision the Council made.

Kelley stated he would like to know as soon as possible, so the Board would have time to prepare rate cards and other items by the effective date.

Smith stated he had been thinking in terms of a 20 per cent increase.

Patterson stated it appeared that the water department was bought after repairs had been deferred for several years under private ownership.

Mayor Abe Silverman stated he had talked to some other nationally-known engineering firms were different in theory as to the financing of capital improvements. He stated some firms recommend a bond issue, and stated he believed it might be a good idea to leave it up to the people to decide.

Patterson explained that Sedalia is under the burden of heavy debts at the present time, and that he believed a pay-as-you-go cash basis is better.

Councilman Woodrow Garrison stated he believed the capital improvement could be worked under a plan similar to the plan for Bothwell Hospital. He stated he believed the problem could never be settled in a public meeting. He suggested the public be barred from the meeting.

Kelley agreed and said in view of Garrison's suggestion, he would like a meeting following a short recess.

During the recess there was some question as to whether or not the press would be allowed to stay at the meeting.

Attorney Henry Salvater for the Board of Public Works stated during the recess that he was in favor of allowing everyone to stay, and stated, "Let's stop stabbing each other in the back with an ice pick, and bring the matter out in a public meeting."

In a few minutes, Mayor Silverman called the meeting back to order and stated the press would be barred. A newsman asked, "Who made the motion?" As no one would take the responsibility for the move to hold a closed meeting, the Mayor declared it open.

The meeting then got down to some serious discussion and the results were apparent. Both sides made some concessions. Members of the Council indicated they were convinced some sort of rate increase was due. Members of the Board indicated they needed the 35 per cent, and offered proof, but agreed they will probably have to settle for less than the 35 per cent.

Councilman Smith after the discussion stated that in his thinking he believed a 20 per cent increase was enough. This was the only figure mentioned, but near the end of the discussion it appeared that this figure may be the final answer.

Garrison asked Kelley what he thought about making the Spring Fork a recreation area, if the recommended improvements are made. Kelley stated the idea had been under consideration, but the outcome will depend on many things—the continued state approval of the water for drinking, the installation of purification equipment and other factors that will have to be worked out when and if the time comes.

Councilman Pat Clark questioned costs of water to home owners and industrial users. Patterson stated that according to the report the home owner, under the present rates, is paying about 20 per cent more of the cost of operation than he would if the industrial rates were the same as for home owners. Under the new rate the home owner would pay only five per cent under the some circumstances.

Urges Tightening Belt

Councilman E. Glenn Lewis stated he believed the Board should tighten its belt along with the rest of the departments in City Government. He indicated the Board should have brought its financial situation to the attention of the Council sooner.

On request of Kelley, Mayor Silverman indicated the Council's answer to the rate increase will be given to the Board Friday, after the Council caucus prior to the Monday night Council meeting. At the meeting the Council can, by ordinance, grant the Board authority to raise the water rates above the allowable five per cent.

At one point the question of why Major C. Hagar, water department manager, resigned his job with the Sioux Falls, South Dakota. It was brought out that one faction in the city welcomed the resignation, but Henry Salvater read a letter of commendation from the Water Commissioner from that city.

The situation had all the earmarks of a political squabble.

LaMonte KJU Class Holds Meet Wednesday

Nineteen members and 11 guests were present for the contributed dinner given by the KJU Class of the LaMonte Christian Church Wednesday in the church dining room.

The program in the afternoon was opened by the president, Mrs. Roy Alexander, followed by a song by the group "Help Me Find My Place." A poem "Small Service" was read by Miss Mabel Harris.

Roy Smith read the scripture which was followed by a most impressive talk, the topic "Christians Cross," the cross being emblematic of the death, burial and resurrection of our Saviour.

A beautiful white cross had been made for the occasion with concealed arms bearing the inscriptions, Time, Talent and Treasures, which the pastor used successively explaining in detail each one which he stressed were the three most important factors in our Christian lives, and each of us should give our time, talents and treasures if we were to live truly Christian lives. The talk illustrated as it was, was most effective.

A solo "Give of Your Best to the Master" was sung by Mrs. D. I. Sevier and accompanied at the piano by Mrs. Paul Brim.

The pastor installed the following officers of the class for the ensuing year: Teacher, Mrs. Albert Yokely; president, Mrs. Roy Alexander; vice-president, Mrs. Amy Hopkins; secretary, Mrs. Edna Martin; treasurer, Mrs. Doll Brim; reporter, Mrs. Harry Duffer; pianist, Miss Mabel Harris; song leader, Mrs. Virgil Fisher; and corresponding secretary, Mrs. Garley Murray.

At the close of the installation the pastor presented a red rose to each of the new officers, the three outgoing officers and also luncheon at noon. Nursery provided.

FRIDAY

Horace Mann Parent and Family Life Class will be at 1:30 p.m. on the stage of the gym. Mrs. A. B. Burke will be the speaker.

Coming in Clear

Wisely used, the live TV press conference as inaugurated by President Kennedy promises important benefits for the American public and potential political gains for the President himself.

The first such conference was a resounding success on several levels. It contained a substantial quota of hard news. It moved rapidly over many widely varied questions—33 in 38 minutes. It featured the President's opinions on hot topics, like the current House Rules Committee fight.

So long as a reasonable blend of these elements is present, the live TV broadcast of presidential press conferences is bound to attract big audiences as a good show.

Their value to the viewing citizen, of course, is much more than that. They can give him a sense of participation in the workings of his government, a feeling of immediacy and involvement with the issues of the day. In a wholly palatable way, they can instruct him.

Kennedy placed his finger on this point. He sees the live presentation as an advance in "direct communication" between the White House and the people. The purpose accords well with the general aim of a democracy to develop an informed public equipped for the choices it must make.

But the live conference can mean a good deal to Kennedy, too. To the extent that he is dealing steadily and directly with the people over the heads of Congress, he will increase his leverage on the lawmakers and enhance his authority and prestige.

Moreover, regular appearances on TV will surely enlarge and intensify the general image the public has of the President. If, as in the first effort, he continuously conveys an air of crisp, clear command, of confidence, of full grasp of the issues and policies, he obviously can only advance his personal political cause.

By its nature, the presidency already commands a large share of the national spotlight. Live TV appearances will add further dimension to the President's broad area of automatic publicity.

This additional advantage, compounding a condition of imbalance that has long existed between an incumbent chief executive and his political challengers, puts fresh responsibility on Kennedy.

In the interest of fair elections, of offering the voters a clearly understood choice, he is bound now more than ever to meet his presidential adversary in 1964 in live TV combat such as occurred—to his great benefit—in 1960.

Sensibly the President has moved toward fuller communication with the people. As a fair-minded man he should be the last to attempt to monopolize these improved avenues of contact. We must hope that he will not.

Message Sounded Like An Old Record

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—The new speaks, but the old is with us. President Kennedy tried a lot of fish with his state of the Union Message to Congress. But in some ways it sounded like a record 8 years old.

Kennedy gave a sense of action by promising it. But that's the last message of its kind this year in which he can simply promise action. From now on, in messages proposing specific programs, he must act.

He indicted President Dwight D. Eisenhower's administration—without saying it in so many words—with his gloomy picture of the situation he inherited at home and abroad.

This somber outlook provides an air of urgency for what he will now have to ask Congress to approve. It's a good weapon to induce action but whether it convinced Congress is yet to be seen. There is also political benefit in describing domestic and foreign affairs in a dim light. The Kennedy administration thus puts itself in a position to take credit for any improvement.

This is just about what Eisenhower did when he took office eight years ago in describing the problems he inherited from the Truman administration.

Some of Kennedy's words — "I speak today in an hour of national peril" and "the outcome is by no means certain" and "the present state of our economy is disturbing" — were in strange contrast with the almost sunny State of the Union Eisenhower saw in his message to Congress Jan. 12.

But more startling, in a way, are the similarities between the problems Kennedy saw in his first State of the Union message and the ones Eisenhower saw facing him in his first message to Congress on Feb. 2, 1953.

For Kennedy, intentionally or not, in effect was saying that his dilemmas now were dilemmas which Eisenhower said confronted him, promised to solve, but didn't.

Take the two men on foreign affairs:

Make Job Grow With You And Harvest Promotions

By FAYE HENLE

Look around your shop. See if you can decide why Joe got a raise and a better job, why year after year Jack never advances.

Does Joe have an "in" with the boss? Does the boss play favorites? What does Joe have that Jack hasn't?

Chances are that Joe has no "in," that the boss is scrupulously fair. Chances are that Joe is more productive than Jack and thus deserves every break he gets.

The best advice I've seen recently on how you can advance on the job, on how to get along once you are hired, is offered by a business administration specialist, David R. Dilley, senior statistician of the U. S. Steel Corp. Though intended to guide students in securing their first job, I think all of us could learn from the advice he offers. Here are his "practical job hints."

Before you get to work each morning, outline briefly what you hope to accomplish during the day. Try to hold to this plan and when your work day has ended, review your accomplishments. Periodically, try to determine how you could have done a better job.

Keep a list of specific tasks you must perform. Tackle the most urgent, difficult and unpleasant ones first.

Put down important ideas and observations relating to your job. They could be of great value at some future time.

Spend some time each day thinking of the broad aspects of your job. Figure out how you can be of greater service. In other words, make your job grow with you.

Make every hour spent at work count. If yours is the sort of job that involves travel or waiting time, take along something to do, perhaps some reading related to your work.

Recognize that there will be times when you will have to work overtime and be mentally prepared. But use your normal working hours so successfully that circumstances and not your own shortcomings make this overtime necessary. Put extra effort into completing your assigned tasks.

Before you make an important personal visit or phone call, jot down all points that must be covered.

Strive for accuracy and clarity in all the reports you give your boss, whether these are verbal or written.

Accept responsibility for errors you have made. Accept criticism as a guide to improving future performance.

Be honest in everything you do. If your employer can't trust you, he certainly will not move you into a job involving more responsibility.

The best way to move up in any organization is to contribute services of greater value than those for which you are being paid. Your employer will then find it of advantage to pay you more as the value of your services increases.

One of the best ways to do this is to continue your education while on the job either by taking specific training courses offered by your employer or by outside study related to your work.

The Doctor Says

Cortical Steroid Family Beneficial--Under Control

By Harold Thomas Hyman, M.D.

A discerning correspondent asks "how is it that cortical steroids have so many different names and are used for so many different conditions that don't seem to be related? I'm getting injections of one preparation in a bursa. One of my fellow librarians is taking another in pill form for arthritis. And her brother was relieved of an attack of asthma the other night with an injection of still another product."

To take the easiest question first. The cortical steroids are available in many forms, under many different names, merely as a means for identifying the products of different manufacturers.

Like the many different makes of automobiles, any one of which will take you where you want to go and bring you back, the different brands of cortical steroid are basically alike. They differ only in minor details like the size of the effective dose. One doctor uses one brand and another a competing brand, just as one drives a Ford and another a Chevrolet or a Plymouth.

Just so long as the individual doctor gets to know the brand he is using, it doesn't make much difference which he prescribes or injects. Like his car, it gets him and his patient where they want to go and, when they're ready to return, brings them back.

As for the more difficult question regarding the number and variety of conditions for which steroids are used, the explanation is more difficult.

The basic reaction of the human body to any injury is the process of inflammation. Whether you suffer a bump, a burn, an infection or an allergy, you'll react with the fundamental responses of pain, redness, heat and swelling. And ordinarily you try to increase that reaction by rubbing the spot, applying a hot water bottle or an electric pad, soaking in a warm fluid, or anointing the area with an irritant like mustard or wintergreen oil.

Now every once in a while, the inflammatory reaction gets out of hand, like the kick of a gun. And when that happens the reaction may be worse than its cause. Too much reaction makes your bursa bulge until it aches. It limits the mobility of your fellow librarian's joints. It causes her brother's bronchial tubes to clamp down until he can't get air out or into his lungs.

In each of these instances, the cortical steroid acts like its parent gland. It has an anti-inflammatory action that relieves each of you temporarily. Your bursa quiets down. Your companion's joints loosen up. And her brother's bronchi relax. But it cures nothing.

That's why your doctor gives you the smallest possible dose for the least possible time.

And that's why you should never dose yourself with a cortical steroid without your doctor's permission and then only if you remain under his close supervision.

Research Rocket Is Fired by Air Force

EGLIN AIR FORCE BASE, Fla. (AP)—An Air Force research rocket—An Aerobee 150—was fired 100 miles high Monday in a study of the upper air around the earth.

Information gathered in a series of such shots will be used in the man-in-space program.

Instruments in the two-stage 1,500-pound rocket took samplings of elements found in the upper air and relayed information to ground stations along the Eglin Gulf test range.

HIGHLIGHTS AND SIDELIGHTS FROM YOUR STATE CAPITOL

By Russell A. Mann Jr.

Missouri Press News Service

A five-point program for management of rural roads is included in a study by the Automotive Safety Foundation presented to the special Senate-House committee studying the state's road needs and ways to finance them.

The Foundation, a privately-supported, non-profit research organization, says local road management in Missouri has been weakened by over-expansion of the state highway system and further division of local road responsibilities among 345 townships and 509 special road districts.

The Foundation says that to improve local rural road management the General Assembly should:

1. Require the creation of highway departments in every county of the state. Such highway departments should be under the policy control of the county courts with local road operations under the direction and supervision of properly qualified county highway engineers.

2. Make it mandatory that all local rural road operations be under county highway departments. Equitable and adequate county-wide fiscal plans are prerequisite to this action.

3. Expand the duties of the present County Aid Road Committee to include all aspects of local road management. This would include establishment of uniform county road standards, financial records and reports; development of procedures for long range improvement programs and methods for review of construction plans and specifications.

4. Assign the State Highway Department the responsibility for co-ordinating county road matters, reviewing and approving plans and programs, and preparing annual reports to the General Assembly on county road progress.

5. Remove the requirement that county highway engineers in class one counties be elected. All county engineers should be appointed by the county courts. Likewise, limitations on engineers' salaries should be removed and such salaries left to the discretion of the county courts.

NASA Chief Has Penchant For Planning

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla. (AP)—James Webb, the new chief of the National Aeronautics and Space Administration, is an attorney with a penchant for planning and organization.

He goes at it with a pace that is breathtaking.

"Very able and very dynamic," says Dean McGee, president of Kerr-McGee Oil Industries, Inc., of his former assistant.

Webb, 54, a native of Granville County, North Carolina, joined Kerr-McGee as a director and assistant to the president in 1958.

He has been responsible for planning and organization inside the firm which has holdings in oil and uranium.

Sen. Robert Kerr, D-Okla., is a partner in the Kerr-McGee firm and chairman of the Senate Space Committee.

Webb's activities outside Kerr-McGee have reflected what McGee terms "a real zeal for training people for public service."

Webb was an organizer and trustee of the Frontiers of Science Foundation of Oklahoma—an organization to promote scientific study and research.

Since he moved to Washington a year ago, Webb has served as president of Educational Services Inc., of Massachusetts Institute of Technology. This organization promotes the study of physics.

As if these tasks wouldn't tie a man down, Webb has served as a director of the McDonnell Aircraft Co. of St. Louis and as a member of former President Dwight D. Eisenhower's foreign aid advisory committee.

Webb claims no "great experience in the space field," but his experience in government began after graduation from the University of North Carolina.

He served as a Marine Corps aviator in the early 1930s and then as secretary to North Carolina Congressman Edward Pou.

After eight years as an official with the Sperry Gyroscope Co., he returned to Washington as executive assistant to the under-secretary of the Treasury.

Former President Harry S. Truman promoted Webb to be his budget director in 1946, and Webb wound up his tour with the Truman administration as an under-secretary of state.

Webb, a Presbyterian, is married to the former Patsy Douglas. They have two children, Sarah and James.

Appears to Have Lead

Rayburn's Hairline Edge Could Vanish Before Vote

WASHINGTON (AP)—House Speaker Sam Rayburn, D-Tex., appeared to have a razor-thin edge as the House faced a showdown vote today on his plan to enlarge the Rules Committee.

But his apparent hairline margin could vanish before the actual voting gets under way. Last-minute maneuvering plus possible absenteeism could swing the decision either way in the vote slated for early afternoon.

There was a slim outside chance that a showdown might be averted between Rayburn and Rep. Howard W. Smith, D-Va., Rules Committee chairman, Smith has fought any move to enlarge his group.

Cubans May Learn Today Their Fate

NEW YORK (AP)—Seventy-five Cubans, granted temporary asylum by the United States, may find out today whether they can remain in this country.

The group of men, women and children arrived here Monday aboard the Spanish ship Covadonga. They were allowed to land "on parole, pending complete investigation" after hours of screening by immigration officials who checked with superiors in Washington.

They quickly spread among friends and various Cuban organizations which housed them.

Peter Esperdy, district director of the Immigration and Naturalization Service, said they were told to return today for final processing.

The 75 were among 215 passengers on the 10,000-ton cruise ship which left Havana Friday. Many told stories of narrow escape.

Gabino Delgado, 43, sports editor of La Prensa Latina news agency in Havana, said he boarded the liner on the pretext of questioning passengers and removed 11 of them. The ship's master, Capt. Angel Goitia, declined to sail for Spain today until he found out whether the 11 could return. They did.

The first reaction of the immigration service was to reject the pleas for asylum, on grounds that the travelers were able to continue to Spain, their original destination.

Esperdy said the Spanish government already had granted them visas and thus had provided sanctuary. Exceptions were being made for those with close family ties in this country.

Offers Sugar Deal to Burma

WASHINGTON (AP)—In what may be the start of a new Red Chinese trade offensive in Southeast Asia, Peiping quietly has offered to sell 30,000 tons of Cuban sugar to Burma at an undisclosed price.

U.S. officials, reporting this today, said Red China also has shipped more than 100,000 tons of rice to Cuba, 15,000 tons of rice to Guinea in North Africa and the equivalent of more than $20 million in foodstuffs, mainly rice, to Ceylon.

Thus, China would be exporting food although it has reported its harvests have been struck by the greatest natural calamities in a century.

U.S. experts closely following the Chinese Communist affairs say that, so far, there has been no evidence of mass famine on the Chinese mainland although there are signs of localized scarcities, particularly in South China.

In offering sugar to Burma, it was noted here that Communist China was moving into competition with both Indonesia and the Philippines.

Last year Communist China agreed to take 1 million tons of sugar from Cuba. Trade sources suspected that it would not be long before some of this sugar was dumped on the world market.

Talk of compromise still was in the air, although several proposed compromises have been turned down.

The Rules Committee frequently has deadlocked 6-6 on questions of sending legislation to the House for a vote. The deadlocks usually have been on legislation backed by liberal Democrats.

The committee split has been four Republicans and two Southern Democrats against six Democrats.

Rayburn's plan is designed to break the coalition hold by boosting the membership to 10 Democrats and 5 Republicans. The additional Democrats would be men picked by Rayburn on the theory that they would vote for bills backed by the speaker and advocated by the Kennedy administration.

If they voted that way, Rayburn forces would control the committee by an 8-7 edge.

The latest compromise move to stave off a fight almost certain to split Democratic ranks for some time was initiated by Rep. Francis E. Walter, D-Pa.

Walter came up with a plan to let the House itself decide what bills it will consider, and under what conditions, if the Rules Committee deadlocks.

The showdown on the Rayburn plan originally was scheduled for last Thursday but Rayburn put it off until today.

President Kennedy meantime has made two major public appearances, once in a televised news conference and again Monday in his message to a joint session of Congress.

The speaker's determination to force the test today indicated his confidence that the President's two appearances had swung the votes necessary for the rules change.

Smith was just as confident. His followers believed the President's indirect criticism of the Eisenhower administration might have alienated some GOP votes on which Rayburn is counting.

If all 436 House members show up—which is very unlikely—the side with 219 would win. An unusually heavy turnout for the house is 430, of which a majority is 216.

Rayburn's camp is counting on at least 20 Republican and 198 Democratic votes for a total of 218. Smith followers believe they have 155 Republican and 63 Southern Democratic votes for a total of 218. Both counts assume a full turnout of voting members.

At Smith-Cotton

Soap Box Derby Meeting Is Set Wednesday Night

Area boys age 11 through 15, interested in entering the Sedalia Soap Box Derby, are being urged by the Sedalia Junior Chamber of Commerce to attend a meeting Wednesday, Feb. 1 at 7:30 p.m. at the Smith-Cotton High School Little Theatre.

A color motion picture film on the Derby will be presented in addition to talks on various aspects of the derby program planned here.

After the program, boys interested in obtaining a sponsorship will be given the opportunity to sign up and receive their $20 to buy materials for construction of the racer body. Sponsorships will be awarded to some of the first boys registering at the meeting Wednesday evening, according to Jaycee officials.

A parent must accompany the boy who desires to obtain one of the sponsorships, officials emphasized, in order that parents may exercise some control over spending of the money and also hear details on the program, and the important role parents can play in the program.

Wednesday's meeting is one of many planned during the next several weeks. Boys who register Wednesday night and do not receive a sponsor will be next in line to receive sponsorships according to their registration number. Sponsorships will be assigned according to registration number only, on a first come, first served basis.

In addition to the $20 the boys signing up will receive, a set of official Soap Box Derby wheels and axles will be ordered for them from the sponsors' funds and will be delivered to them or they may be picked up at a future derby meeting.

Official derby rules for 1961 will be given each boy registering at this meeting, officials stated.

Not all sponsorships will be assigned at this meeting since some of the sponsors have indicated they will enter their own sons. Sponsors who plan to enter their sons are also urged to attend this meeting.

Derby Director, William D. Hill, will be in charge of the program and will hold a question and answer session following the meeting.

Other persons on the program include: Fred Hill, district representative of the Chevrolet Co., national sponsors of the program; D. Kelly Scruton, president of the Missouri Sportswriters Assn., and Sports Editor of The Democrat-Capital; and Rick Fullerton, president of the Jaycees.

A partially completed racer will be on display to give boys and parents an idea of what to look for in building racers.

Only boys eligible to enter the derby—11 through 15—are being asked to attend the meeting.

Youth Admits Role in Boy's Death Plunge

LOS ANGELES (AP)—A boy, 17, admitted dropping a boy, 8, Monday night from a hotel roof to his death on the sidewalk five floors below, police reported.

Killed was Christopher Mayfield who arrived here Friday with his parents and younger brother from San Jose, Calif.

Police said Christopher and his brother Brian, 5, were watching television in the hotel lobby when the 17-year-old invited Christopher to go up on the roof to play. The mother, Yolande Mayfield, 40, was writing a letter at a desk.

The older boy told police he said to Christopher on the roof: "let's look at the scenery."

"They leaned over the parapet," Sgt. P. R. Brooks said in describing the 17-year-old's account. "He said, 'then we started wrestling around. The boy was hanging over the side of the roof and I let him go.'"

"We asked him why and he doesn't have an answer; there's no response to that question."

The 17-year-old, identified by police as John B. Raleigh of Los Angeles, was booked on suspicion of murder.

Team of Stars

Ohio State Rivals Facing a Dilemma

By HUGH FULLERTON JR.

Associated Press Sports Writer

College basketball coaches usually can come up with ways and means of stopping one big star, but what are you going to do about a whole team of them?

That's the dilemma faced by Ohio State's rivals. Chances are they could devise a defense to stop tall Jerry Lucas, just as Minnesota stalled Indiana's big Walt Bellamy Monday night. But that still would leave four teammates, plus some subs, to be accounted for.

While Indiana, Kentucky and Louisville, all highly regarded teams, were going down, Lucas and his Buckeye teammates were rocking along to their 15th victory of the season and their 20th straight over a two-year span, Wisconsin was the victim, 100-68.

The measure of Ohio State's all-around skill was reflected in a 50.7 per cent shooting average for the team—39 field goals on 77 attempts. Lucas made 19 points, Larry Siegfried 18, John Havlicek 15 and Mel Nowell 14. Even when Ohio Coach Fred Taylor benched his regulars late in the first half and again with nine minutes to go in the second Wisconsin could not gain.

Lucas was stopped just short of a Big Ten record when he missed a free throw after hitting 27 straight.

Jerry's 1960 Olympic teammate, Bellamy, didn't get the same kind of help as Minnesota, trailing 37-33 at half time, produced a collapsing defense in the second half and won out 66-58. Bellamy did a great rebounding job, but the Hoosiers couldn't get the ball to him often enough on offense and he scored only 15 points.

Minnesota's aggressive play under the boards probably was the deciding factor. Two sophomores, Tom McGrann and Jay Kessler, with Dick Erickson simply out-fought the Indiana players for the rebound in the second half and the Gophers, after taking the lead at 53-51 managed to stay ahead.

Ohio State was left as the only Big Ten team unbeaten in conference play while Indiana slipped to 2-1 in the standing.

Illinois, a Big Ten team that follows the theory of trying to outrun and outshoot the opposition, chalked up its second conference victory 93-92 over Michigan State on Bill Small's basket with 21 seconds to go.

Miami of Florida checked Louisville, ranked seventh nationally in the current poll, 71-69 in a thriller, coming from nine points behind to win on Bruce Appleget's last shot. Georgia Tech upset Kentucky 62-60 and Kansas State gained a tie with Kansas for the Big Eight Conference lead with a 72-70 decision over Iowa State.

Georgia Tech's Roger Kaiser put on a tremendous one-man show as he led the Engineers to their first conference victory and virtually wrecked Kentucky's hope of winning the SEC title. Held to one field goal in the first half, Kaiser scored 18 points in the second half and capped the climax with a leaping one-hand shot for the winning basket.

Kansas State, ranked No. 10 nationally, also gained a last-gasp decision, winning on Al Peithman's 25-foot jump shot with 28 seconds to go. The only other top ten team in action Monday night, St. John's (N.Y.) had come from far back early in the game but gained an 84-75 decision over Creighton without too much difficulty.

In other major conference games, Florida won its fifth straight in the Southeastern — a record for the school — by beating Alabama 52-50; West Virginia wore down Furman in a high-scoring Southern Conference affair to gain a 96-87 decision and Richmond trimmed Davidson 83-78 in another Southern Conference game.

Arnold Palmer Top Selection In Golf Classic

PALM SPRINGS, Calif. (AP) — Arnold Palmer, who launched his great 1960 campaign here, leads a small army of golfers Wednesday into the 90-hole, $50,000 Palm Springs Classic.

A picked field of 128 professionals, each accompanied by three amateurs, for a total of 512 players, spreads out over the vast desert country on four courses for the first four rounds. The final round of the second annual classic will be played Sunday on a fifth course.

Bermuda Dunes, Indian Wells, Thunderbird and Eldorado are the sites of the first four rounds of pro-amateur competition. Tamarisk Country Club, the official headquarters of the tournament, is the setting for the windup with the low 60 professionals competing. Last year Palmer won the five-round classic and $12,000. He had scores of 67-73-67-66 and wound up with a six-under-par 65 for a total score of 338.

Second at 341 was Fred Hawkins and veteran Johnny Palmer, no relation to Arnold. Bob Goalby tied for third at 342.

Palmer went on to win almost everything in sight, including the United States Open, the Master's and more than $80,000.

Much the same cast of stars of tournament golf is here again. Invited were the winners of the 1961 tournament swing thus far in California — Goalby at Los Angeles, Bob Rosburg at the Bing Crosby Tournament, Gary Player at San Francisco Sunday and Arnold Palmer at San Diego.

Mules Lose Monday Tilt To Indians

The Central Missouri State Mules of Warrensburg lost their fourth MIAA conference game of the season Monday night when Cape Girardeau's Indians scored six points in the final minute of play for a 76-70 triumph. The game was played in Garrison Gymnasium, Warrensburg.

The Indians drew first blood on a field goal by Les Hemmer after the tip-off. Cape went on to take a 11-point lead before the Mules could muster a defense effort and score. It took them three and a half minutes.

With 1:35 minutes left in the half, the Mules, after a strong scoring surge, tied the score 34-all, and in the last minutes of the half, Warrensburg to the lead, 39-38.

Free throw accuracy made the difference in the ball game. The Mules scored 20 from the line. They had 29 chances. Cape, on the other hand, missed only 11 tries, and connected for 34. The Mules, however, outdistanced the visitors in the field-goal department, 25-21, but it wasn't enough of an edge.

Both teams had three starters in trouble early in the game, each with three fouls against him. However, with eight minutes left in the game, four CMS starters had to consider four fouls against their names. Two of these fouled out with five minutes remaining in the game. They were guards Russ Childress and Bob Walter, who nevertheless scored 11 points each before going to the showers.

The second half of play was nip-and-tuck for the first ten minutes, with the Mules maintaining a lead which never went over one or two points. Cape, however, then pulled into the lead, but it began changing hands until they managed to nail it down by another six points in the final minute.

The Mules will play on their home court against Kirksville Saturday, looking for their second MIAA conference win of the season. Game time is 7:30 p.m. In over-all play, CMS stands 9-6. CMS scoring: Bud Vainio 14; Gordon McFarland 10; Bob Dennis 11; Russ Childress 11; Bob Walters 11; Tom Hewitt 6; Tony Marshall 7; Cape Girardeau: Carl Ritter 16; Les Hemmer 6; Vivian Reed 5; Ron Gray 24; Bill Giesling 17; Richie 4; Pikey 4.

LA Lakers Set Sights on No. 2 Spot in League

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS

The Los Angeles Lakers, riding a four-game winning streak in the National Basketball Association, have their sights set on second place in the Western Division.

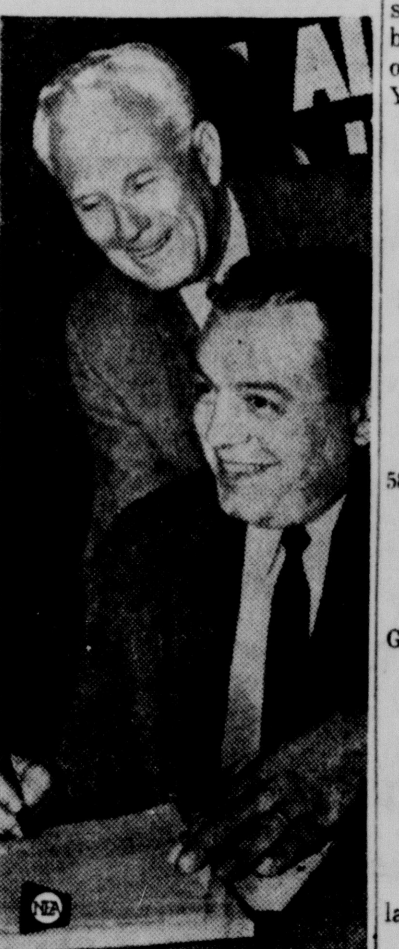

The Lakers edged Detroit 117-116 Monday night to move to within 1½ games of the runner-up Pistons. In the night's only other action, the Cincinnati Royals kept pace with Los Angeles by whipping the Boston Celtics 116-88. The Royals, fourth in the West, remained 1½ games behind the Lakers.

Los Angeles pulled out the verdict in the fourth period after squandering an 18-point lead. The Pistons, trailing at halftime 63-52, scored 13 straight points at the outset of the third quarter to take a 65-63 lead.

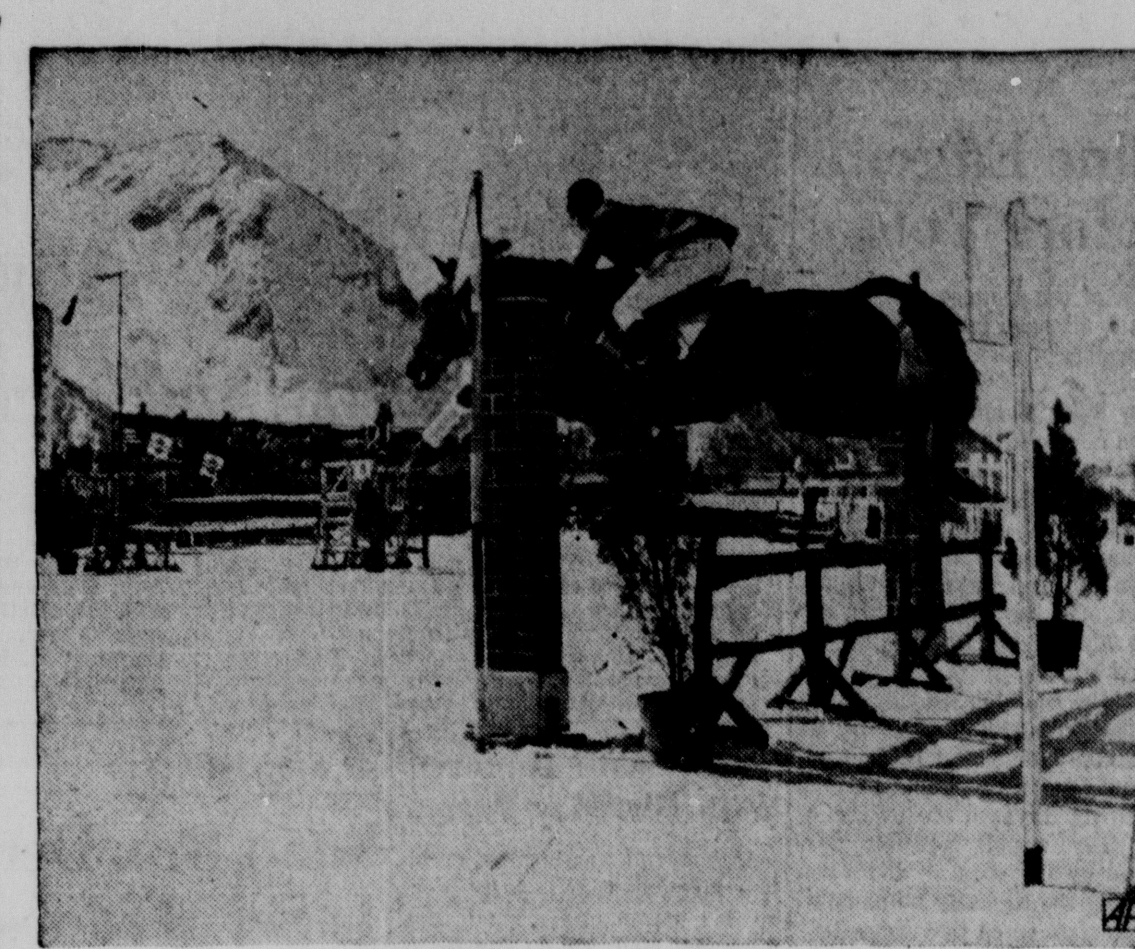

Elgin Baylor of the winners headed the scoring parade with 28 points and five other Lakers' players garnered 15 or more.

Jack Twyman clicked for 41 points and rookie Oscar Robertson, apparently recovered from a hip injury, added 32 in Cincinnati's romp over Boston's Eastern Division pace-setters.

Writers Say Pirates Are Team of Year

PITTSBURGH (AP) — "Anytime a person is connected with a baseball club so highly recognized it is a truly great honor."

Manager Danny Murtaugh made that comment Monday night upon learning his Pittsburgh Pirates had been named the Team of the Year for 1960 by sports writers and broadcasters participating in the annual Associated Press year-end poll.

The Pirates, who won the National League pennant and then defeated the New York Yankees in the World Series, received 289 points in the voting. The Philadelphia Eagles, National Football League champions, placed second with 130 points. The U.S. Olympic hockey team was third with 91 points.

Murtaugh, the National League Manager of the Year, said he was thrilled at the Pirates' latest honor and added: "If I had voted, I would have had to cast my ballot for the Pirates, also."

Murtaugh said the reason for his vote would have been the late-inning rallies the Pirates staged to win many games which established them as a "truly remarkable ball club."

The smiling Irishman, who lives in Chester, Pa., near Philadelphia, said he was happy about the Eagles finishing second and also noted their come-from-behind finishes during the past season.

"I'm an Eagle fan," Murtaugh said. "It is amazing how the Eagles were to football what we were to baseball. It is quite an honor for Pennsylvania to be represented by two teams such as the Eagles and the Pirates."

Asked if he presently held any ideas concerning future honors for himself and the Pirates, Murtaugh replied, "Right now I'm just thinking about getting ready for next season."

Other teams which had more than 20 points were, in the order of their selection: Ohio State, basketball; Boston Celtics, basketball; University of Washington, football; U.S. Olympic basketball; and University of Minnesota, football.

Murtaugh was in Pittsburgh to see Pirate President John Galbreath of Columbus, Ohio, honored as Pittsburgh's Man of the Year.

Roger Maris Slump Case A Puzzler

NEW YORK (AP)—The case of Roger Maris is a puzzler. He hits 39 homers, drives in 112 runs, wins the Most Valuable Player award and what happens? Everybody asks, "Why did you slump?"

Maris was questioned about his second-half slump Monday when he signed his contract with the New York Yankees for an estimated $33,000 salary. Guesses were that he got $21,000 last year. "Estimated," you ask? Right. This is the informed guess of the baseball writers. Nobody will know the official figures except Maris, the Yanks — and the Internal Revenue Service next year.

Maybe Roger will tell the Mrs. He wouldn't even hint to the writers. "If anybody asks me how much I'm going to get, they won't find out," he said at the opening of the news conference.

Now, about the slump. Despite the homers, RBI and the MVP award, the figures do not lie. On July 20, Maris had hit 31 home runs in 33 games. At the end of the season he had hit only eight more in 53 games.

Maris had no alibi although he could have pointed to the rib injury that kept him out of the lineup from Aug. 14 to 31, except for a pinch-hitting appearance. In 1959 an appendectomy put him on the shelf and resulted in another tailspin at Kansas City.

"I've got my own theory," he said and then clammed up, except to add that "when a hitter goes sour there is not much he can do."

Maris admitted he had trouble at Yankee Stadium with its inviting right field stands "because I tried to pull too much." A left-handed batter, he found himself reaching for the seats subconsciously.

"If I hit straight away like I do on the road, I would be better off," said the Yankees' right fielder. "I hit very few long balls to left or center last year in the Stadium."

Coach Could Relax If He Knew the Team

KANSAS CITY (AP)—A basketball coach could relax if he knew that his players were going to make goals seven times in 10 shots.

That's what 6-4 John Gales is doing for coach Ralph Miller of Wichita.

In five Missouri Valley Conference games through Saturday Gales has hit 28 buckets in 40 shots. He's done even better on free throws, sinking 13 of 14. Gales leads the league in accuracy in both departments.

Chet Walker of Bradley still is the Valley's leader in total scoring with a 27.6-point average in five league games and 25.7 in 15 games for the season.

Ernie Moore of Wichita, ineligible for the second semester, was second in league games with an average of 17.2. Gus Guydon, Drake, is second in all games at 18.3.

Gary Hevelone, Tulsa, leads in free throws for all games, sinking 44 of 52 for 84.6 per cent.

Bradley is the top offensive team, averaging 84 points, and also leads in rebounding.

St. Louis has one of the toughest defenses in the nation, holding opponents to an average of 52.3 points.

CBS Halts Showing Of Spy Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP TV-Radio Writer

NEW YORK (AP)—CBS' abrupt cancellation of Circle Theatre's "The Spy Next Door," the fiction-based-on-fact drama originally scheduled for Wednesday night, may relate to an incident which took place almost two and one-half years ago.

On Sept. 25, 1958, CBS' Playhouse 90 presented a drama called "The Plot to Kill Stalin." In it, a character named Khrushchev was shown preventing an aide from giving the ailing Soviet premier medicine needed to save his life.

A few days later, Soviet Ambassador Mikhail Menshikov called a Washington news conference at which he announced he had lodged an official protest about the show and called the program "a filthy slander." He also said that he expected the U. S. government to take steps to prevent such "anti-Soviet" attacks.

The cancelled Circle Theatre program written by Jerry Ross, was proclaimed to be frankly fiction, but based on cases of Soviet espionage uncovered in this country. With a modest improvement in the climate surrounding U.S.-Soviet relationships, evidenced by release of the RB47 fliers, it would not be surprising if CBS took the drastic step to avoid any possible diplomatic repercussions now.

However, the situation highlights another one of those insoluble headaches brought about by the very popularity of television: a fast-growing shortage of potential villains.

During the last war, motion pictures and radio (TV was not in the picture then) were able to go all out making our enemies, Germany and Japan, the black hats in their espionage and adventure stories, and nobody minded how dark they were painted. However, in the delicate cold-war situation, it apparently is unwise to point a dramatic finger directly at a real nation. Maybe the writers will have to call it Country X. And there's always Ruritania.

CBS will soon face another delicate situation. On Feb. 18, its Show of the Month will present a live dramatization called "The Lincoln Murder Case," based on a book called "Web of Conspiracy" by Theodore Roscoe. The treatment strongly intimates that a member of Lincoln's Cabinet was either part of a plot to slay the Civil War president or knew about it but did nothing to stop it. And it names names.

Sweat Next Six Days

Italy Nervously Awaits Answer to Two Questions

ROME (AP)—As nervous as kids before Christmas, Italians are sweating out the next six days to learn the answer to the two biggest questions in the country:

1. Will a fishmonger's daughter named Milva edge out a big industrialist's daughter named Mina as Italy's top pop singer?

2. Will 1961's big hit song in Italy—the land of Caruso and "O Sole Mio"—be "Thousands of Blue Bubbles," "24 Thousand Kisses," or "The Ocean in a Drawer?"

The 24 prospective top tunes were tried out on the public last week in the annual festival at San Remo.

Most critics agreed it was awful, although there were surprises.

Jumping Joey Sentieri, who usually bounces when he sings, kept both feet on the ground.

Mina didn't hiccup in the tone-jerk style that has made her the country's biggest pop money singer for two years. She introduced a new technique—finger singing.

Remember how as a child you used to run your fingers over your lips when you spoke—to produce that blu-blu sound? That's how finger singing is done.

When Mina slammed into the chorus of "Mille, Mille Bolle Blu"—"Thousands of Blue Bubbles," she used her fingers to get the blub-blub in the blue bubbles.

The song—and Mina—were both hits. "Mille, Mille Bolle Blu" tells of a girl who every time she's kissed feels like she's sinking into an azure sea where all she can see is thousands of blue bubbles. It has the whimsy of a 1960 festival hit called "Tintarella Di Luna" about a girl who sunbathed by moonlight to get a palor instead of a tan.

Also new this year was Milva, a gal who also bills herself with just one name. Black-eyed and 21, she actually is Ilva Maria Biognati. Mina, lanky, lively and 20, is really Mina Mizzni.

An unknown from a small town, Milva won an amateur contest on Italian television and got a chance at the San Remo festival because her voice sounds like Edith Piaf's did 20 years ago.

She sang "Il Mare Nel Cassetto," "The Ocean in a Drawer," about a stay-at-home girl who keeps a bit of sand, some pebbles and a toy ship in a dresser drawer, to dream that she has the whole sea there in her room.

Another favorite at the festival was "Ventiquattromila Baci"—"24 Thousand Kisses"—A cha-cha-cha job bounced and howled by a teen-age newcomer called "Little Tony."

The winning song and the winning singer automatically are assured the biggest slice of record money for the year. Italians won't know the answer until Feb. 6.

Last year a lot of fans didn't agree with the judges' choice of comedian Renato Rascel's "Romantica" over shaggy-haired Modugno's "Libero."

This year the festival officials decided to leave it up to a national vote. The ballots are to be counted next Monday.

Off to Europe

Guggenheim Museum Gets An Art-Chasing Director

NEW YORK (AP)—Contemporary art's tourist-catching Guggenheim Museum has a new director, who will be off to Europe next week as an art-catching tourist.

One of his first tasks will be to see about supplementing a prospective exhibition of the works of Wassily Kandinsky, a foremost progenitor of abstract expressionism.

Thomas M. Messer, a slight young man with black hair, very dark eyes and a pleasant accent from his native Czechoslovakia, was named director Monday. He will be 41 on Feb. 9. He was an exchange student who studied at Boston University before the war, and became a citizen in 1944, the year he went to France in regimental military intelligence, U.S. Army.

After a postwar master's degree at Harvard, he became director of the Roswell (N.M.) Museum, came to New York's American Federation of Arts in 1956 and has been director since 1956.

Five Children Die When One Builds a Fire

MONTGOMERY, Ala. (AP)—Five children died in a blaze that began after one of them decided to build a fire in an unused heater.

That was the conclusion drawn by firemen Monday night after the bodies of the Negro children were found in the shell of their three-room dwelling.

Chief fire inspector R. C. Talley said Fred T. Gilmore, 35, a construction laborer, and Norma Jean Jones, 26, said they were parents of the children. They identified the victims as Fred T. Jones, 6; Roosevelt Jones, 4; Michael Jones, 3; Preswood Edward Jones, 1 and Norma Jean Jones, 5 months.

Both parents were away from home when the blaze occurred.

British Admiralty Okays Soviet Diving

LONDON (AP)—The Admiralty gave the Soviets the go-ahead Monday to send divers down to a trawler lost with its crew of 20 in a storm three days ago off the Shetland Islands.

A naval spokesman denied a report published in a London newspaper that the Admiralty would send frogmen down to check the trawler's radar as a possible spy ship in the Soviet fishing fleets.

of the Institute of Contemporary Arts in Boston.

His appointment was the second step in filling the administrative gap left last summer by the departure of Director James Johnson Sweeney, who since has been appointed director of the Houston Museum of Art.

Sweeney had said simply that his ideals and those of the museum did not match. Eyebrows rose and it was reported that he did not like the unorthodox structure on Fifth Avenue, whose architect was one of the high priests of modernism, Frank Lloyd Wright. It has no box-like galleries, but is a continuous spiral ramp.

The citizenry has flocked to it. In the first 12 months after the opening in October 1959 it was a magnet for nearly a million visitors. The novelty has worn off a bit, and the current rate is expected to produce a second-year total of a mere 700,000 to 800,000.

The Guggenheim's first step, a month ago, was to name H. H. Arnason, an educator, to the newly created job of vice president for art administration. He said Monday the museum plans to broaden out with group lectures, expert symposia, educational work with schools and colleges, and possibly concerts of contemporary music. And perhaps go beyond painting and sculpture, into such things as design.

Messer will have other things to do in Europe, but the projected Kandinsky show should be no great problem. The Guggenheim Museum already has the richest collection of Kandinsky works in the world, 180 of them.

A newsman asked whether the museum would continue to devote most of its attention to non-objective art.

Messer's diplomatic answer: "Our objective will be to look for the art of quality in our times."

The spiral ramp? Messer and Arnason showed every sign of liking it.

Coast Guard Academy To Accept Negro

NEW LONDON, Conn. (AP)—The U. S. Coast Guard Academy says its doors are open to any qualified Negro.

Rear Adm. Stephen H. Evans, the school's superintendent, said Monday night there was no requirement in its admissions regulations that would bar a Negro or any other qualified U.S. citizen.

Evans' comment was in response to a report Monday that President Kennedy was concerned that there were no Negroes in the academy's present class of cadets.

Kennedy noted absence of any Negroes among the Coast Guard contingent marching in the inaugural parade.

An informed source said the President was told there are no Negroes at the academy and only one Negro among the Coast Guard's 2,500 officers.

Kennedy reportedly directed academy officials to make certain qualified Negroes are considered for admission.

Evans said he had not received any directives from his superiors or from the White House.

He added that he did not believe a change in policy was required "since the Coast Guard Academy has no requirement that would bar a Negro."

He said at least one Negro had been graduated from the school.

"We have enrolled at the academy Americans of many races and nationalities," the superintendent said. "I see no reason under the regulations why a Negro could not become a cadet if he met other qualifications."

Attractive Wife Wins a Divorce From 'Briefcase'

DALLAS, Tex. (AP)—Attractive Lucille Lynn Alger was granted a divorce from Rep. Bruce Alger, R-Tex., Monday after testifying that she was "a political widow" who was "married to a briefcase."

Mrs. Alger, 38, a former model, said she had received cruel and harsh treatment from the 42-year-old congressman. She told news-men that one reason for the divorce was an attempt by Republicans to groom her husband for vice president.

"Republican party leaders didn't think I had enough education and family background to be a vice president's wife," she said.

Alger, a Princeton graduate, is Texas' only GOP congressman.

Attorneys said the settlement provides for Elizabeth Antoine, 62, of Dallas—Mrs. Alger's mother—to retain custody of the couple's three children.

Officers said Russell was to appear in court to answer a charge of making an improper turn. Hogan was to have been a witness.

Faces Long Sentence On 13 Charges

HOUSTON, Tex. (AP)—A carpenter's helper faces a life term, plus 643 years in prison, after pleading guilty to 13 charges resulting from a summer crime spree.

James Edward Hill, 19, pleaded guilty Monday to crimes ranging from rape to theft of clothes and was sentenced to 643 years plus life. Friday he pleaded guilty to carrying a pistol and threatening a policeman and got two one-year sentences.

Hill dressed as a woman when he committed the crimes, he said. Hill was arrested Sept. 7 after he was wounded in a gun fight with police. He was dressed in a cocktail dress, high heels and beige gloves at the time.

District Judge Ed Duggan sentenced the ex-convict to six 99-year terms for two rapes, a robbery and three burglaries. He got a life term for another rape, 12 years for burglary and two 10-year terms for car theft and theft of clothes.

Teamsters Ask Pay Hike for Zookeepers

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Who is gifted at mating calls, can identify the eggs of any bird, is ready for any emergency and yet performs a dangerous job for less money than a streetsweeper?

A zookeeper, that's who, says the Teamsters Union. The union, representing some of the zookeepers here, demanded Monday that they be given a pay boost.

Takes Icy Walk In Promoting March of Dimes

WAUKEGAN, Ill. (AP)—The mayor of Waukegan marched 2,148 steps in 15-degree weather Monday and ended up waist deep in ice-fringed Lake Michigan.

Mayor Robert Sabonjian started marching at a downtown intersection wearing hip boots, a fireman's helmet, raincoat and a life preserver.

For each dollar contributed to the March of Dimes, Sabonjian marched one step eastward toward the numbing lake.

He was waist deep in water when the contributions stopped at $2,148, only a few dollars short of the mayor's generous goal. Sabonjian had volunteered to walk into the lake until the fireman's hat floated off his head.

Top Ratings Make McKay Happy Man

By BOB THOMAS
AP Movie-TV Writer

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—In television, he can laugh last who gets good ratings. And so Gardner McKay is entitled to a healthy chuckle.

No laughing boy is McKay, the lean, lanky star of "Adventures in Paradise." He's intent and serious, and these qualities may have helped save the ABC hour from sinking in the TV typhoon.

Talking to McKay is somewhat of an adventure in itself. You may have to trail him from stage to stage because 20th-Fox TV schedules wait for no man. You may also wonder at times whether he is talking to you, himself or his omnipresent shaggy dog, since he is given to asides and comments. I stuck it out and learned some things about his conquest of oblivion.

"The show is going great now," he observed. "I heard we made it to the top 10 in ratings. That's good. But it still takes work, work, work to keep up the quality. I feel we're dipping into a little valley now. Gotta stop it."

"I've had rough times," he continued. "I was really led to the slaughter at the first of these series. Here I was, a big handsome pretty boy all set up ready to be knocked down. I was a real target."

He added: "Sure, the criticism hurt. It must have, though I didn't realize it at the time. I had a breakdown, partly from overwork—I had worked from May until December without a day off—partly from the pressure. I threw an armchair at the camera. "Everybody got scared. I asked for a few days off and they gave it to me. I went up to Carmel and got a room with a fireplace. Those few days meant a lot to me. When I came back, I was ready to work."

McKay said he would like to do 100 shows and then quit. What then? I don't know if any series star can make it in features. We're seen to death. But my brother and I have a book we want to film, about sailing around the Horn. We might do it some day."

Kennedy's Grimness Toward Business Could Bring Lift

By SAM DAWSON
AP Business News Analyst

NEW YORK (AP)—The very grimness of President Kennedy's view of the state of the economy could give business a lift.

This seeming paradox lies in the response that Wall Street and business planners often take to any indication that Washington is about to loosen further the government purse strings.

And they figure that if the President thinks business is that bad at home and defense needs that urgent, he'll lend an ear to advocates of more spending.

After their first reaction to the President's State of the Union message, stock traders might well take the view that certain industries are bound to be getting new orders soon, that new money will be finding its way into the pockets of the unemployed and others, that various other spending schemes will be pushed.

Such programs usually take a time to be turned into actual money in the till, but the prospect of their approach could give a new outlook on business prospects to many who have been waiting to see just what the new administration would do.

President Kennedy says flatly we've been in a recession since mid 1960. And he thinks the recovery from the 1958 recession itself wasn't very convincing. All of which, he says, calls for government action which he'll spell out in coming days.

At the same time, however, he pledges to keep the dollar sound. Just how he proposes to do both—push government pump priming and avoid further inflation—he promises to outline later.

Business already had taken note of the sizable jump in government expenditures proposed in the 1962 fiscal budget offered by outgoing President Eisenhower. And businessmen are well aware that Kennedy's advisers are urging plans that would call for still larger spending.

The Wall Street bulls have tentatively started paving the ground.

Businessmen—both Democrats and Republicans—could take the same attitude as to the probable effect on the economy of the State of the Union views. Democrats, along with most labor leaders, will say it's about time Washington admitted business conditions needed a helping hand.

Republicans, although doubtless thinking the pump priming unnecessary, will see it as threatening more inflation—the end result being business stimulation, however unhealthy.

The conservative view of present business conditions differs materially from Kennedy's. It holds with President Eisenhower that most of the current troubles are due to cutbacks in inventories. It stresses that final demand is sustained—that is, consumption of goods is at about the same pace as this time last year. Factories and merchants just aren't laying in stocks.

Miss Findley, Queen At Coronation Ball

Miss Sharon Findley, a senior, was crowned queen of the Ozark Echoes Coronation Ball held in the Warsaw High School gymnasium Saturday night. Attendants were Jill Price, junior class; Betty Teeter, sophomore; and Maureen Foster, freshman class.

Theme of the ball was "Candyland" and the gym was decorated with candy striped crepe paper, canopy ceiling, colored trees in each corner, and on either side of the queen's throne, bore hundreds of cellophane wrapped candies. Trellises were covered with ice cream cone vines.

Bob Kinkead acted as master of ceremonies. Miss Findley was escorted by Ronald Jenkins, Miss Price by Jerry Meyer, Miss Teeter by Jim Parsons and Miss Foster by Mike Hirsch.
